PARK BOARD TO ADD ADULT PLAY SECTION

An area especially designed for "older folks" will be added to the Recreation Park by next summer if plans discussed by the Recreation Board at its meeting Monday night are carried out.

Discussing proposals for the coming year, the board decided a section of the southern portion of the park could be set aside as an area for adult recreation "away from the youngsters."

Decision to provide a play area for the adults came after the board had heard a letter from the Adams County Council of Community Services asking that the Rec Board consider installation of a shuffleboard court for the senior citizens.

SHUFFLEBOARD COURT

Discussion led to enthusiasm by the board, which held that "recreation is for everyone." A check of costs showed shuffleboard courts can be installed for $325 apiece. An area about 50 yards from the two pavilions placed by local service clubs at the south end of the field and equally close to fireplaces for picnics was chosen as the site. A check of ground available showed the area could handle three shuffleboard courts and a horseshoe court. The board decided to ask an additional $1,000 in its budget from town council for the coming year to pay for the proposed installation of the "adult recreation center" at the southern end of the field. The money would provide for three shuffleboard and one horseshoe courts.

The board decided to meet "a very evident need" by buying additional picnic tables and, for the first time, benches where persons may sit in the Recreation Park. Ten new picnic tables at $25 each were ordered to bring the total at the park to 29.

ORDER BENCHES

Ten concrete and wood benches at $30 each were ordered to be placed at strategic spots throughout the field "to let mothers sit down while the kiddies play and to let elders sit and sun themselves and watch the youngsters." The first step toward improvement of the lighting at the softball diamond on Recreation Park was taken when the board purchased for $460 from Hull's Electric Service a 50 KVA transformer.

XMAS GIFTS SOUGHT FOR 10 CHILDREN

The Adams County Child Welfare Services advisory board is seeking organizations or individuals to provide Christmas gifts for 10 youngsters under Child Welfare care.

A report by Mrs. Edward Zinn at Monday evening's meeting of the board in the Topper Building showed that the names of all of the youngsters under Child Welfare with the exception of 10 have been taken by various groups and individuals who will buy them Christmas gifts.

The board is hopeful that sufficient Sunday School classes, individuals, fraternal or service groups or "any other group" will volunteer to provide gifts for the 10 at Christmas. Those interested are asked to telephone the Adams County Child Welfare Services office. The board said that donors may buy the gifts themselves or provide the funds and Child Welfare officials will do the buying.

NO PUBLIC FUNDS

Each year Christmas gifts are purchased for the youngsters through public appeal. County funds do not provide for Christmas gifts.

Child Welfare Director Miss Dorothy Curtis reported the number of children on the rolls remain at 128. Last month service was initiated for two youngsters and two were dropped from the rolls. The 128 represent 59 families. Forty of the children are in foster homes, four in adopted homes, 42 in the homes of parents or relatives, 30 are in institutions and two are listed as "elsewhere. Ninety-seven of the children are under direct supervision of Child Welfare, the remainder under indirect supervision.

Miss Curtis' report showed three foster home applications pending. There are 28 approved foster homes at the present time and a "need for more homes." Families interested are asked to phone the Child Welfare office.

$1,500 Damage In Two-Car Collision

Damage totaled $1,500 but no one was injured Monday afternoon when two cars collided at the Heidersburg intersection on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg Rd.

State police said Ann P. Kinley, 49, Hanover, was driving west on the Biglerville-York Springs Rd., stopped for the stop sign and then drove into the intersection. Her car was in a collision with a southbound auto on Route 15 operated by Raymond Stonewell, 48, Ionia, New York. Damage was estimated at $500 to the Hanover auto and $1,000 to the New York car.

SCHOOL SEEKS GRANT TO AID WORK PROGRAM

The Fairfield School Board Monday evening authorized Dr. Curvin C. Smith, supervising principal, to seek federal approval of a $10,000 work-training program for students under the Neighborhood Youth Corps section of the Economic Opportunity Act.

Smith told the board that 10 per cent of the cost of the program will be borne by the school district.

The program provides improvement of 27 acres of undeveloped school property and will include four tennis courts, an archery course, baseball diamond, play area and a greenhouse. The work will be done by approximately 35 local youths between the ages of 16 and 21 whose families are in economic need. They will earn $50 an hour and work from eight to 15 hours a week through the end of school on the program. All work will be supervised by either teachers or local businessmen.

OFFER UNICEF GREETINGS FOR HOLIDAYS

A special committee is launching the sale of UNICEF Christmas cards in the county with representatives helping in the distribution of the cards in many county communities.

Mrs. A. L. Price, New Oxford, is the card sale chairman and Mrs. Fred Neal of Gettysburg is the co-chairman.

Displays of the UNICEF cards, note paper and engagement calendars may be seen at the following places in Gettysburg: The AAA office, Carol Ann Shop, Gettysburg National Bank, Frederic's Beauty Salon, Beautique Beauty Salon and the YWCA.

The following persons are in charge of sales throughout the county: Littlestown, Mrs. Malcolm Shadle and Mrs. Thomas Craig; Fairfield, Mrs. George Inskip; Biglerville, Mrs. Donald Horst; Arendtsville, David Bushman; and New Oxford, A. L. Price. Mrs. Neal may be reached at the YWCA.

To carry on the work of aiding millions of ill and undernourished children throughout the world to which UNICEF is committed requires large sums of money, the local UNICEF leaders explained. UNICEF must depend on voluntary contributions from governments, donations from individuals and on a limited number of fund-raising activities. One of the most important of these is the annual sale of UNICEF greeting cards.

"One box of greeting cards sold will provide enough penicillin to cure 20 children of yaws. Two boxes of cards will provide enough antibiotics to cure eight children of trachoma and five boxes will protect 35 children against the dread of malaria for a full year. Ten boxes will provide intensive three-year treatment for seven children suffering from leprosy," Mrs. Neal said today.

TEACHERS SAY ROTARY GRANT IS ADEQUATE

Two former "Rotary Fellows" told of their experiences Monday evening at the meeting of Rotary in the YWCA.

Miss Janet M. Powers, who was in Pakistan on a Rotary grant in 1961-62 and Nelson R. Sulouff, who was in Scotland in 1955-56 on a similar grant, presented a "dialogue" on the Rotary Foundation program. Both are members of the faculty of Gettysburg College.

Both held that the grants given by Rotary for postgraduate study to Rotary Fellows "are sufficient to meet all needs." They also noted that "there are variations in the amounts of the grants depending on how much will be needed. In some countries it is higher, for others lower, depending on the costs there."

DESCRIBE TOURS

Sulouff, who attended St. Andrew's University in Scotland, held that, "In Scotland the people to whom I spoke seemed most interested in comparisons of living conditions in the U. S. and Scotland. They wanted to know everything about us." Miss Powers said that in Pakistan, the United States Information Service seemed to have done a good job of telling the Pakistani about us. They were more interested in what I thought of their country. They seemed fascinated that Americans were interested in their culture and ideas and were not horrified by sitting on the floor and eating with their fingers in the Pakistani fashion.

Both held that "one recommendation we might have is that the Rotary Fellows be given a greater opportunity to meet the lower classes. The Rotarians are the businessmen, educators, etc. It is difficult to meet the common people." Miss Powers said that in Pakistan she found difficulties, partly because of her sex, in meeting the poorer people of the country. "The Rotary Club sponsored a dispensary, but

ARRAIGN TRIO ON BURGLARY CHARGE HERE

Three young men were arraigned this morning before Justice of the Peace John Whitman on burglary charges brought as a result of an attempt to enter the Richard A. Heuser service station in Hampton, August 26. All entered guilty pleas.

State police listed the three as William Allen McDilda, 20, of Gardeners R. 1; Kenneth William Fahnestock, 20, Mt. Holly Springs; and Charles Lynn Swartz, 21, Carlisle. The officers said a fourth man, Richard Frederick Hershey, Carlisle R. 5, is also accused with the other three, but Hershey currently is in the Cumberland County jail.

The three, taken before Justice Whitman this morning, had been imprisoned in York County. They were released Monday afternoon to Adams County authorities to face the charges here. They are scheduled for sentence December 14.

State Policeman Edwin Karr said the quartet are alleged to be the burglars who were frightened away from the Hampton service station when the owner arrived about 12:20 in the morning. At the service station the intruders had battered the door of a soft drink dispenser outside the building owned by Clark Spence, Orrtanna, but failed to make entrance into the machine. They had just entered a window when the owner arrived and they fled.

The four men were arrested later the same day in Cumberland County and have been in jail on other charges since that time.

LIGHT RAINS BRING LITTLE RELIEF IN PA.

HARRISBURG (AP) — State officials say the light rains that fell over most of Pennsylvania Monday brought only partial relief from the drought which has dried out the state's forests and created a major fire hazard.

They added that strong winds blowing in many parts of the state today threaten to spread those fires already burning and dry out Monday's moisture.

Gov. Scranton decided to permit continuation of the small game hunting season, but he held out the possibility of a ban if the drought conditions persist. He already has forbidden smoking, campfires and the burning of brush and rubbish in woods.

NEED INCH OF RAIN

Dr. Maurice K. Goddard, secretary of forests and waters, said it would take at least an inch of rain over a three-day period to alleviate the situation.

The rain that fell Monday ranged from .10 of an inch over the Eastern half of the state to .75 of an inch over the Central mountains and Western slope of the Allegheny Mountains.

Samuel J. Cobb, chief of forest protection, said there were 251 new fires in the five days ending Sunday with over 50 of them still burning, although under control.

A forest fire which burned for some 60 hours and destroyed 75 acres of timber in the Wagner's Gap area 10 miles north of Carlisle was extinguished Monday night.

Meanwhile, the continuing dry spell continues to threaten water supplies in many areas. More than a score of communities already are using emergency supplies.

Some Sections Get Rain But Others Battle Fires, Seek Emergency Water

CHICAGO (AP) — Rain swept across the eastern half of the United States, somewhat easing one of the most severe autumn droughts in history, but many areas continued to battle brush fires and to seek emergency water supplies.

Rainfall over much of the Midwest dampened charred fields and forests, but in the East water supplies dwindled and intermittent precipitation did little to alleviate serious drought conditions and fires in woodland areas.

Substantial showers moved over Southern Illinois, wetting the area where fires destroyed some 15,000 acres of timber this fall. It ended a 48-day rainless span for Cairo in the southern tip of Illinois.

BREAK DROUGHT

Rain in Indiana broke a 19-day drought, and a four-day ban on outdoor fires was lifted. Rain fell throughout Ohio, but the U.S. Weather Bureau said it wasn't enough to alter the dry situation plaguing south-central and southwestern counties and threatening forests there.

New England, which has suffered through its worst autumn drought in history, had some relief. Connecticut received only .01 inch of rain, but officials said it was enough to reduce the danger of brush and forest fires.

Maine and New Hampshire received some snow, but officials said more precipitation is needed to bring the water table up to seasonal levels. An inch of rain in southern Maine and 3-4 inches of snow in northern Maine brought some relief to stricken areas.

MAY ASK U. S. AID

Massachusetts officials considered asking for federal aid to finance transportation of water to communities where reservoirs are low.

Light rain fell over much of Pennsylvania. A ban on smoking in woodlands, lighting of campfires and burning of brush remained in effect. Officials said 251 forest fires broke out last week and more than 50 are still burning.

The situation remained grim in New Jersey, where Gov. Richard J. Hughes asked mayors in four large northern counties to take immediate steps to conserve water. Monday's rainfall measured only .04 inch.

Scattered showers in New York State did little to settle the dust of a six-month drought.

REPORT 95 FIRES

A light rain Monday night made West Virginia forests slightly less prone to fire, but 95 fires were reported in wooded areas.

Girl Scout Troop 958 will meet Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Presbyterian Church. All members are asked to bring Christmas tray favors samples. Calendar money is to be handed in at the meeting. The court of honor will meet between 5 and 5:30 o'clock. Karen Mehl and Molly O'Brien were invested as new members at the November 12 meeting. Following their investiture all the members were redeedicated to Scouting. To Unveil Tablets: Gettysburg will have a partial Lincoln Day observance next Thursday, the fifty-first anniversary of the delivering of the immortal oration here, when tablets to Lincoln and Burns, placed on the pews they are said to have occupied in the local Presbyterian Church on the day of the dedication, will be unveiled. The tablets are presented by J. W. Johnson of Rochester, New York and the program will include brief talks by local people who heard Lincoln at Gettysburg. County Superintendent Roth has granted Mr. Johnson an hour from four to five o'clock, at Thursday afternoon's session of the Teachers' Institute when he will deliver his illustrated lecture on "The Rochester Troops in the Battle of Gettysburg."

Fire Destroys Town Machine: The four cylinder Cadillac automobile of Hon. Donald P. McPherson, Carlisle street, was completely ruined by fire Thursday afternoon on the Waynesboro pike about a quarter of a mile from Buena Vista Springs Hotel. The woods in that section caught fire from the blazing car and a number of residents of the community worked for some time before it was finally gotten under control. In the car at the time of the misfortune were Mr. and Mrs. McPherson and Miss Annie Horner who were on their way to visit friends in Hagerstown. They were descending a steep hill and not relying on the brakes Mr. McPherson was holding the car on the engine. Suddenly it backfired and the gasoline tank blazed out. The occupants of the car got out with difficulty for the flames in a moment enveloped the machine. The car is practically a total loss as no insurance was carried and it was ruined beyond repair.

Find Bones Of Two Soldiers: Lying little more than fifteen inches below the surface, the bones of two soldiers were found at the southwestern edge of town by William H. Johns, who is engaged in doing some work about his property on Steinwehr avenue extended. The remains are evidently those of two Union men. The discovery was made by Mr. Johns while he was digging a ditch to lay a water pipe. The larger bones were found, the limbs of both soldiers being fairly well preserved. The bones of the one were still there though the toes were missing, evidently cut off by a plough. The land has been cultivated for years and why the bones were not turned up before is hard to understand. With the bones were found part of an old army hat, a number of teeth, and a brass button, indicating that one of the men belonged to a Union command. No money and no personal effects were found with the bones.

Killed King of the Mountains: Christian Calmer, Glen Furney, is the hero among the deer hunters on the mountains. He has brought down the large deer which has foiled all hunters for a number of years. "Long Black John" the people of the Glen Furney vicinity long ago named the deer. He was big, he was dark in color — because of his years, it was said — he was wily and it was believed his thick coat of hair had the power to turn aside bullets. Before and after hunting season he was to be seen frequently in the old forge and Glen Furney sections and he seemed literally a monarch among the deer. Many hunters had espied him and

Today's Talk

WASTE MOTION

We surrender so much to the many silly and wasteful conventionalities. We dodge, and run around the corner, from the obvious thing to do, and from the natural, efficient way. Often it is no more than to "show off," or to demonstrate our conceit or imagined superiority.

We are creatures of habit and tradition. We rush for the latest thing in machinery, or gadget, neglecting to oil the machinery of our mind, or to think out a more efficient way for the improvement of this mind. We forget about that never changing rule of the shortest line. The great publisher, Joseph Pulitzer, was forever emphasizing to his writers — "simplicity, simplicity."

Take that old tradition of two envelopes for wedding invitations and announcements, and the leaving of two or more cards when calling, where one is sufficient, for example. With all the evils accompanying "mass production," in the making of automobiles, and other useful things, it has enabled those very workmen to come to their place of business in one of those cars, and given great health and enjoyment, as well, at other times. Millions are benighted instead of the few.

Waste motion in wars often brings defeat, as well as in times of peace. The natural, practical way is always the best and most efficient. It's the time saver, too!

The tragic and enormous number of automobile accidents are greatly augmented by speed, and a desire to get over the road as soon as possible, but that very anxiety to get to one's destination becomes wasted time if the accident occurs, as it so often does. The quickest way to one's destination is the safest one. Even the enjoyment is wasted by too great speed.

The old cabinet makers, and sought after these days, took their time. They were in no hurry — so their work has lasted, and is prized more today than then. They bequeathed their love of beauty and permanence, to us all. They left something of themselves behind — their intense pride in work well done — in the best possible way. There is acclaim for the genuine artist — who wastes nothing.

AFTER KISSING

Lady, in the long ago
Kisses given didn't show,
In the chivalry of old
Kisses taken no man told.
But the lipstick print today
Gives the lady's kiss away.
So, kiss me, dear, but don't forget
Beauty paint is always wet.

Fair ones do not leave me,
please,
Looking like some skin disease.
When you've kissed me on the cheek
Rub away the tell-tale streak.
Cousin Jane and Sister Flo
Rub it off before you go.
Kiss me, dear, but don't forget
Beauty paint is always wet.

Never think that I object
To the joy of being "pecked."
Kiss me often as you can
And I'll be a happy man,
But before you leave me stop
This old grizzled face to mop.
Lest some evil thinker cough,
Kiss me, dear, but rub it off!

chased him but none could bring him low until Christian Calmer came across him Wednesday afternoon near the old forge and not far from the Sport deer club's camping grounds. Calmer shot twice as "Long John." The first bullet broke a front and a hind leg and the second penetrated the animal's heart. The deer weighed almost 200 pounds. An examination showed a hole in one ear, made by a bullet some years ago.

More Deer Killed: Successful deer hunters reported from the mountains on Wednesday were Arthur Hutchison of West High Street, a member of the Marsh Creek Club, who got an eight-prong 170-pound buck; Charles Eicholtz, a member of the Andrewsville club, a six-prong, 125-pound buck; George Kane, of the Kane Club, a two-prong buck; Allen Robert of the McKnightstown Club, a fine buck; and E. Prepare Report On Syria-Israel Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A report from the U.N. Palestine truce organization on clashes last weekend between Syria and Israel is expected to be ready for the U.N. Security Council by Wednesday.

Syrian and Israeli delegates addressed the council Monday. After two hours of debate, the 11-nation body adjourned to await the report.

After it is studied, chief U.S. delegate Adlai E. Stevenson, the council president for November, is expected to summon the council back into session before the weekend.

The Syrian and Israeli complaints were based on a two-hour artillery and air clash north of the Sea of Galilee last Friday.

Robert Horner will be leader at the meeting of the Senior Fellowship on Sunday at 6:30 p.m. The Junior Fellowship will meet at 6:30 p.m. on Sunday with Dean Bankert as leader.

GOP WOMEN STATE VIEWS ON TOP ISSUES

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women says federal legislation is needed to set up a two-year residency requirement for candidates for the U.S. Senate.

The proposal was included among several resolutions adopted Monday at the council's convention here. The convention closes today.

The council once again called for the scrapping of the federal graduated personal income tax. The GOP women called for a U.S. constitutional amendment to permit Bible reading and recitation of the Lord's Prayer on a voluntary basis in public schools.

ON REAPPORTMENT

Congress also was asked to take steps to guarantee that no attempt be made to remove the words "Under God" from the pledge of allegiance.

On the question of legislative reapportionment, the women went on record in favor of one house of bicameral state legislatures being chosen on factors other than population.

On the state level, the council once again favored constitutional revision through the amendment process and recommended that the legislature look into "the lack of control of crime on city streets."

LALESSANDRONI LAUDS RULING BY U. S. COURT

HARRISBURG (AP) — State Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandrini had high praise for the nation's highest court Monday after it placed jurisdiction of Pennsylvania's reapportionment problem in the hands of the state Supreme Court.

"... The U.S. Supreme Court has confirmed our contention that the proper tribunal to interpret the Pennsylvania Constitution and to direct the method of apportioning Pennsylvania's legislature is the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania," Alessandrini said.

He spoke after the nation's highest tribunal vacated a decision of a three-judge federal panel which had ruled last April that the state's 1964 Reapportionment Law violated the equal representation guarantees of the U.S. Constitution.

VIOLATES AMENDMENT

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court in September held the law did not adhere to the "one man, one vote" principle set down by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The state court permitted members of the General Assembly to be elected last Nov. 3 under the 1964 law, but directed the 1965 legislature to come up with another law by next Sept. 1, to be applied to the 1966 elections.

The three-judge federal panel had held that two provisions of the state Constitution regulating reapportionment violated the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

The provisions say that each county must have at least one representative, regardless of size, and that no county may have more than seven senators.

Alessandrini appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court for relief, contending that the state Supreme Court should have jurisdiction in the case.

Says 2 Nations Can Rule Entire World

LOS ANGELES (AP) — British historian Arnold J. Toynbee says, "The United States and Russia are just 15 per cent of the world, but can decide the world's fate."

Toynbee, in Los Angeles to accept an honorary degree from California State College, told a news conference Monday that nuclear war is a real possibility, but that it might be avoided if the United States and the Soviet Union unite to control arms.

Conceding that the two countries have a tremendous "common interest," Toynbee said:

"I would like to see them take extreme action. It's not good democracy but it is good for survival. If they can agree quickly, they can control the world. If not, China will control the world."

DONATIONS TO POOR SOUGHT BY CATHOLICS

By BENNET M. BOLTON
VATICAN CITY (AP) — The 2,000 Roman Catholic prelates entered the final week of the current session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council today and heard an appeal for donations to the poor of the world, just as Pope Paul VI gave away his own jeweled crown.

Archbishop Percile Felici, secretary general of the Council, told the assembly in St. Peter's Basilica that a number of cardinals gave the Pope money for the needy after the pontiff's dramatic gesture last Friday.

The archbishop said many council fathers had asked how they could "participate" in Pope Paul's action.

GIVE TO POOR
"The very best way would be to give offerings to the Pope for the poor," Archbishop Felice said. He asked that such contributions be sent to the Vatican secretariat of state.

He appeared to be talking of cash contributions although at past council sessions some prelates suggested that bishops turn in their rings and pectoral crosses as a way of raising money for the poor.

There was no indication from Vatican sources how Pope Paul's $10,000 crown would be used to help the poor.

The council began the 10th and last week of its third session.

EXTRA SESSION
The cardinals, archbishops, bishops and patriarchs may have to meet in the afternoons as well as the mornings to get documents ready for the ceremonial closing Saturday.

It seemed virtually certain that Pope Paul would be able to issue two council schemata as full Church decrees next Saturday.

One blazes a new path for Roman Catholic relations with other Christians. The other establishes the principle that all bishops share collectively with the Pope in governing the church.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

ORDER OF THE BATH. Bathing in ancient times was a ceremonial affair. In many cultures, the object was to propitiate the gods or to seek their favors.

The bath today has a less exotic purpose, but bathrooms and bath products are far from prosaic. As more and more lovelies are coming to realize, cleansing is only part of the ritual. It also offers a chance for relaxation, refreshment and all manner of beauty treatments.

Let's concentrate on the beauty aspects and the adjuncts to it.

To overcome and prevent winter time skin-chap and flake, there are now many effective bath oils. The more effective because the oil breaks up into almost invisible globules and permeates the water, and thus films the skin.

The use of medicated and pH soaps helps to clear a blemished back. Discoloration gives way to milk baths, now packaged by a number of cosmetic houses. When an area is badly discolored, however, the persuasion of a pumice stone or grainy cleanser may also be needed.

In order to tune up the skin, bath brushes make an all-out effort. Strung on a cord, they reach from here-to-there!

For after-bath toning, lotions range from soothing to stimulating. The soothing lotions are creamy and incorporate healing herbs and oils. Stimulating rubs, called "friction lotions," tingle

Burch Will Fight Ouster From GOP Chairmanship; Barry Will Back Contract

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's support of Dean Burch's claim that he has "a four-year contract" to head the Republican National Committee pushed bickering Republicans toward a showdown over control of their party machinery.

Burch said Sunday he will fight back if anyone tries to oust him.

Among others, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, former Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York made it clear they will use all the influence they have to force a change in leadership of the national committee.

Goldwater said on his return Sunday night from a Jamaican vacation after his defeat by President Johnson that the party should honor Burch's "contract."

Goldwater picked Burch for the chairmanship after his own nomination at the San Francisco convention and the committee in turn elected the Phoenix, Ariz., lawyer.

Burch has scheduled a January meeting of the national committee at which he has said he would stand or fall on a vote of confidence.

showed that the comparatively few national committee members willing to express an opinion were about evenly divided on whether the chairman should step aside because of his part in the election campaign. Many members of the committee said something must be done to rebuild the party, but not many were specific about what form this should take.

Veteran politicians had expected Burch to save his $30,000-a-year job by some conciliatory statement that he would serve all party factions as a non-policy-making director.

This would have followed the pattern of Goldwater's statement that the Republican course in the next four years will be carved out by GOP members of the Senate and House under the leadership of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

WILL FIGHT OUSTER
Burch, accompanying Goldwater on his return, said that as chairman he would be "mechanic and technician, not a creator of policy." But, he added, he had been elected for a four-year term, intends to serve it out and if anybody thought to oust him, he would fight back.

Goldwater backed up this statement with the observation that Burch was under contract to the party.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon told newsmen on his arrival in Tokyo Sunday that a GOP comeback hinges on finding new leadership "that is acceptable to all elements within the party, from Goldwater at one end of the spectrum to Rockefeller at the other." He emphasized his call for new leadership was not necessarily a call for new faces and said that if party leaders decide Burch "could be chairman for all the party, he could become part of that new leadership."

EXPLOSIVE LABOR FIGHT IS PREDICTED

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — An explosive labor battle with a short fuse is sizzling in the wings of the new Congress.

The fight is expected to flare up soon after Congress meets in January. It could be the hottest labor battle since the 1959 Congress cracked down on union racketeering with the Landrum-Griffin Act.

The issue is simple. Organized labor wants to repeal one short paragraph in federal labor law that directly affects every union in America and about one-third of the nation's approximately 70 million workers.

OUTLAWED BY 20

The paragraph — Section 14B of the 1947 Taft-Hartley Act — permits states to outlaw union shop labor contracts under which every worker must join the union. Twenty states have outlawed them. They are legal in the 30 other states.

Jubilant labor leaders have been waiting 18 years for the fight time to light the fuse in Congress to wipe out the 20 state "right-to-work" laws.

They're in no mood to wait. They think the hefty new Democratic majority makes repeal of 14B a cinch.

George Meany, president of the 13-million-member AFL-CIO, has tagged it labor's No. 1 goal in Congress in 1965. Even unions that don't get along with the big federation agree.

PREDICT HOT FIGHT

Labor spokesmen predict a fast, short, hot fight in which "we expect to be victorious." Opponents are led by the National Right-to-Work Committee. Even before union leaders made their move, the committee said: "The hierarchy of organized labor is trying to take a giant step toward their admitted goal of forcing every employed person in the nation to pay a union boss for the privilege of working."

The committee is also talking about court action if labor wins. In pressing for repeal, labor will be trying to collect on a four-year-old Democratic campaign promise. It was written into the Democratic platform in 1960 as well as 1964, but until now labor didn't have the political muscle in the House to force the issue.

LOTS OF FRIENDS

What makes labor so confident is that the new Congress will have a majority of labor-backed members in the House for the first time.

The Committee on Political Education, the AFL-CIO's political arm, helped boost 233 House members into office. Labor leaders are also eager to take quick advantage of the defeat of GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, the Senate's right-to-work champion.

BROUGHT "REVOLUTION"

Union men believe right-to-work laws drag down the whole cause of organized labor, not just in the 20 states that have them. Repeal of 14B could set off major organizing drives.

The National Council for Industrial Peace, which lobbies against right-to-work legislation, said the issue "brought about a revolution" in the control of legislatures in Montana, New Mexico, Wyoming, Utah, Indiana and Pennsylvania.

The states with right-to-work laws are Utah, Indiana, Kansas, Wyoming, Arkansas, Arizona, Florida, Nebraska, Georgia, Iowa, North Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, North Dakota, Nevada, Alabama, South Carolina and Mississippi.

PARTS HOLDUP MAY PREVENT WORK AT FORD

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. studied its next move today in a parts-shortage situation which it says could lead to a system-wide shutdown of its 90 plants by the end of the week.

Approximately 58,000 of Ford's 180,000 employees remained idle in strikes or layoffs at factories across the country as negotiations continued with the United Auto Workers Union.

Included were 16,700 workers affected by local-plant strikes which were reduced to five over the weekend.

Ford, blaming a car-parts shortage from key manufacturing plants, laid off 34,000 men last week. At that time a string of local-plant strikes was idling 24,100 workers.

Both company and union expressed hope that all the strikes could be settled before a scheduled meeting between management and the UAW's national bargaining committee Thursday.

The union ordered its national Ford committee to Detroit to assist in negotiations after top-level talks had produced no agreements.

Local agreements at the plant level supplement the national agreement between Ford and the UAW, which was reached Sept. 18. The present local strikes began Nov. 6.

Two weekend settlements, at the Sheffield, Ala., aluminum foundry and the Chicago Heights, Ill., stamping plant, left five disputes remaining in the interlocking nationwide plant system of the country's second-largest automobile producer.

The unsettled disputes were at two car and truck-assembly plants in Wayne, Mich., parts plants at Ypsilanti and in Michigan's Sterling Township, and the Buffalo, N.Y., stamping plant.

WOUNDED DEER DROPS ON LAWN

HIALEAH, Fla. (AP) — The E.L. Westbrook family had venison today—delivered to their door.

The 125-pound buck with five-inch antler points apparently wandered miles from its Everglades habitat after it was wounded. Carolyn, 10, and Alan Hasker, 6, found the deer lying on their lawn Sunday. It was dead. Mrs. Charles Hasker said she didn't want it.

"I've never had deer," she said. "I wouldn't know what to do with it."

Police called the Westbrook garage to make the pickup. Mrs. Westbrook knew what to do. In quick order, the deer was skinned, dressed and iced.

"We're cooking a piece of hindquarters now," she said.

Mrs. Westbrook's husband and three sons weren't home to enjoy the meat.

They were in the Everglades — hunting deer.

Wants De Gaulle Stand On NATO

PARIS (AP) — Manlio Brosio, secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, challenged French President Charles de Gaulle Monday to state his position on NATO's problems clearly.

Speaking to the 10th annual session of the NATO parliamentary conference, Brosio referred to France's opposition to the proposed multilateral nuclear force—MLF—and to French suggestions that NATO must be reformed.

At the same time Brosio said proponents of MLF have to justify the proposal.

"I believe there is far too much loose talk about the need for reforming NATO. Suggestions that NATO needs reorganizing which are unaccompanied by any practical proposal as to what needs to be done can only create perplexity and cast doubt on the solidarity of the alliance," he said.

12 TECHNICAL SCHOOLS OPEN

In addition, the report contained a vocational technical schools have opened in Pennsylvania this year and eight more are in the planning stage, the governor's office said in a week-end announcement.

In addition, the report continued, the Department of Public Instruction has approved 28 more attendance areas for vocational-technical schools.

The schools were authorized by legislation passed in 1963.

Eight of the operating schools were in existence in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh prior to the General Assembly's approval last year and were converted to meet the requirements of the vocational-technical program.

Four completely new ones were opened: Two in Westmoreland County and one each in Northumberland and Allegheny counties.

Court Rules On Reapportionment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court handed to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court Monday the job of seeing that the state's legislature adopts a reapportionment law meeting the federal "one-man-one-vote" standard.

The highest tribunal, in a unanimous action, vacated a decision by a special three-judge U. S. District Court for the middle Pennsylvania district that had declared invalid legislative apportionment acts of Jan. 9, 1964.

The high court's order said the federal decision had to be vacated in favor of action ordered by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court. The state court had ordered the General Assembly to write a new reapportionment law in time for use in the 1966 state election.

YESTERYEAR'S RADIO SHOWS SUNDAY NIGHT

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Television has become such a household staple that parents often are nonplussed when their children inquire how they spent their evenings "in the olden days."

We all had a chance to find out — and for many of us, to remember—Sunday night when NBC presented a 55-minute radio program recalling some of the high moments of the golden pretelevision era.

There was Eddie Cantor singing his closing song, "I Love to Spend Each Sunday with You," and Major Bowes quieting the applause for an amateur contestant in his calm voice.

BERGEN AND MCCARTHY

Stars of the show were Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, who started in radio 31 years ago with a coffee sponsor — when coffee came in paper bags.

In the background you could hear a real, rich roar of laughter from the studio audience. In many a home Sunday night, there must have been nostalgic smiles.

That brings us to the incredible two hours of special programs on network television this past weekend which concentrated on the Beatles.

POOR TRAVEL FILMS

On Friday night CBS presented some film made during the singers' American tour — and I've made better home movies myself. The shots were mostly confused crowd scenes, full of bobbing heads, and the sound track was loaded with squeals and an occasional snatch of a song. Carol Burnett read a dull narration with a remarkable lack of enthusiasm.

Then Sunday night ABC cleared an hour for something called "Around the Beatles," in which a number of young British rock 'n' rollers wailed, bobbed and shook their long locks while a mob of youngsters howled and screamed and clapped their hands.

Ah, me! Nelson Eddy sounded pretty good on the radio Sunday night and at least his feminine admirers swooned silently.

Recommended tonight: "The Andy Williams Show," NBC, 9-10 EST — with Shirley Booth.

NEW JOB FOR DOCTORS

NEW YORK (AP) — Sargent Shriver, director of the Peace Corps, says the corps is starting a program to send hundreds of doctors abroad on health projects.

Shriver said Sunday that 100 doctors worked overseas as volunteers or on assignment from the U.S. Public Health Service last year.

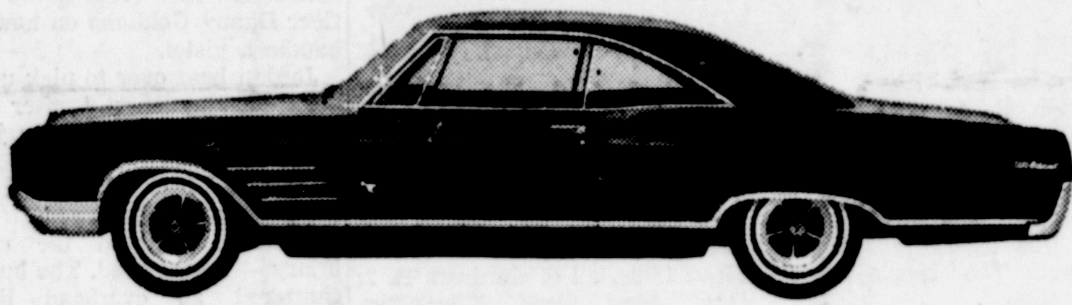

TORRANCE, Calif. (AP) — Actress Kate Mann, 32, who appeared in recent years on television, died Sunday. Doctors attributed her death to an overdose of sleeping pills.

Many Factors Pointing To Mild Winter But Weather Bureau Won't Confirm It

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (AP) — A close study of many factors, including the jet stream, a polar bear's fur, the stockpiling activities of squirrels, and the laws of chance, points today to an inescapable conclusion: The coming winter may be abnormally mild, but prepare for the worst.

The U.S. Weather Bureau flatly refuses to say what the winter will bring. Weather science is not yet that good, it says. The most it will hazard is a 30-day outlook, issued twice a month.

Now if the bureau could know now what the jet stream will be doing next January it might become bolder. James F. O'Connor, bureau meteorologist, made a valiant effort to explain the jet stream in words understandable to an amateur.

DON'T FLY STRAIGHT
It is the core or nucleus of a broad band of westerly winds which sweep across the Pacific and the United States, west to east. They fly high, at an altitude ranging from 10,000 to maybe 40,000 feet.

Trouble is, you cannot count on them to fly straight, they meander, they snake around in their journey.

If they snake northward in the winter, over the Yukon for example, much of the United States can look for earmuff weather. If they meander southward, the storms imbedded in them, or swept along by them, they may pick up a lot of water vapor over the Gulf of Mexico. This could mean umbrella weather later for many Americans.

ZOO SIGNS DOUBTFUL
Next stop was the National Zoo where Snow Star, a polar bear, proved equivocal. It's true she has a remarkably thin coat for a polar bear, but her keeper, Albert C. Smith, had a theory about that: "I think she keeps rubbing her hair off by scraping against the sides of her pool." Elsewhere in the animal world, some confusion has reigned. Squirrels hereabout have been seen chasing their tails as though it were springtime; they don't seem to be stashing away many acorns. In Illinois, blackbirds and bronze grackles were observed on a wrongway flight; eastward instead of south.

A-BLAST BELITTLED
The laws of chance are not much help. If you toss a penny, and three heads — bad winters — come up in a row, you might expect that a tail — mild winter — would appear next. But it's a 50-50 chance that it might be another head.

One thing scientists are generally adamant about. The explosion of an atomic device by the Red Chinese did not produce our long, golden Indian summer weather this year.

Man-made blasts, even nuclear ones, are puny compared to nature's strength.

Get Signals From Underground Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission announced Monday it had recorded seismic signals from the Soviet nuclear test area which apparently indicated an underground nuclear test.

The AEC's terse announcement said the signals came from an "event" in the Semipalatinsk region. Later an AEC spokesman said: "The absence of acoustic signals indicates it (the shot) happened underground."

Denies Indonesia Plans Nuclear Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey, asked about reports Indonesia will explode a nuclear device next year, said Monday that he had no such information.

He pointed out that a small atomic reactor Indonesia received from the United States is "incapable of producing materials for weapons."

INJURED BY BUFFALO

HONOLULU (AP) — Restaurant employee Henry Ing is recovering today from a thigh wound caused by a buffalo. Ing was herding five water buffaloes into a corral near the Haiku Gardens restaurant Monday when they turned on him. He was gored in the left thigh before escaping to a tree.

SLOW MEN WORKING

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A citizen complained by telephone Monday about the time involved in improving the valley highway.

Specifically, he said, he wanted to protest a sign reading: "Slow men working."

Was Late Pontiff A Heavy Smoker?

NEW YORK (AP) — Was Pope John XXIII a heavy cigarette smoker or only an occasional user?

Associates of the late Roman Catholic pontiff say he usually limited himself to a cigarette or two, after dinner.

"He was a chain smoker," says Thomas J. Deegan Jr., chairman of the World's Fair Executive Committee.

Deegan told Monday of an audience he had with Pope John, and said the Pope smoked one cigarette after another during their half-hour conversation.

Darwins, Huxleys Have Family Ties

NEW YORK (AP) — The Huxleys and the Darwins, long united in scientific and literary association, now have family ties.

Mrs. Schenck Huxley of New York announced Monday the marriage Saturday of her daughter, Angela Mary, 24, to George Pember Darwin, 36, in London. The couple will live in London.

Darwin is the great grandson of biologist Charles Darwin, who developed the theory of evolution.

The bride is the great granddaughter of T. H. Huxley, outstanding defender of Darwin's theory.

PLACE PLAQUE FOR KENNEDY

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Temple University students, at a memorial service for the late President John F. Kennedy, today dedicated a plaque on the spot on which Kennedy stood when addressing a student rally during the 1960 presidential campaign.

It reads simply: "Here, on October 31, 1960, John F. Kennedy addressed the Temple University community on his only Philadelphia campus appearance of the 1960 presidential campaign."

Principal speaker at the memorial services was former Philadelphia Mayor Richardson Dilworth, who introduced Kennedy at the 1960 rally.

Dilworth described the late president as "an amazing combination of grace, style, humor and intellect; all this with great toughness of fibre and a political ruggedness."

He added: "We suffered a tremendous loss when President Kennedy was struck down, and he has now become a legend when he would have preferred to be a man." "But, in doing so, he taught us as nothing else could, that we as a nation can never be petty or little in anything."

Mrs. Nhu now lives in exile in Paris.

Final plans for the Christmas bazaar and auction sponsored by the Friends of the Library have been announced by Mrs. Frank N. Hewetson.

The bazaar, which features hundreds of items for gifts, decorations and food, will be held Friday in the Hotel Gettysburg press room from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The auction will be held in the evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, and many new "like-new" articles have been gathered for this sale.

A cafe corner will provide an opportunity to purchase light refreshments during the day.

The proceeds from the bazaar will be used toward debt reduction on the addition to the Adams County Library and officials hope that residents from all parts of the county will support the project.

The items in the above photograph show a small portion of the articles made at the workshops which have been held at the home of Mrs. Hewetson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Heller, Gardners R. 2, were guests of honor at a reception Saturday evening in the Bendersville Community Fire Hall in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary.

About 130 friends and relatives attended. The couple received many gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Heller, both of whom are now 73 years of age, were married in the Bendersville Lutheran parsonage by the late Rev. Joseph Arnold. Mr. Heller is a retired Reading Railroad employee.

They have five children, all of whom were present for the reception. They are: Mrs. Evelyn Murter, Glenroy Heller and Mrs. Jean Cline, all of Gardners R. 2; Mrs. Janet Lloyd, Wilmington, Del. and Mrs. Donna Slaybaugh, Bendersville. There are 21 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

JOHNSONS WED 30 YRS.; PLAN FAMILY DINNER

By FRANCES LEWINE
WASHINGTON (AP) — "I hope this marriage lasts," the minister said 30 years ago when the bridegroom, Lyndon Baines Johnson, was in such a hurry he forgot to buy a ring.

They'll probably laugh about it again tonight at a family dinner party in the White House celebrating the wedding anniversary.

WEARS SEARS RING

Lady Bird Johnson still keeps as a memento the Sears, Roebuck ring hastily purchased because young Johnson goofed on the day of their wedding in old St. Mark's Episcopal Church in San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 17, 1934. The Rev. Arthur K. McKinstry officiated.

Their 30-year marriage milestone comes exactly two weeks after the election in which the Johnsons were assured another four-year lease on the White House.

They got the election returns in the Driskill Hotel in Austin, Tex., a spot of fond memories. It was there Lyndon and Lady Bird had their first date — breakfast in the hotel's coffee shop.

HONEYMOON IN MEXICO

It was all a far cry from the day they were married, Lyndon, 26, and Claudia Alta (Lady Bird) Taylor, 21. Johnson then was secretary to Texas Rep. Richard Kleberg.

Only last week, entertaining the president-elect of Mexico, Johnson recalled he and his wife had honeymooned in Mexico at Xochimilco, famed for its floating gardens.

Recently Mrs. Johnson said she thought her husband was a remarkable man when she married him.

"I still think he's remarkable — and I know a lot more about him," she added with a smile.

Tonight the Johnsons hope to celebrate the occasion in privacy with their daughters, Lynda, 20, and Luci, 17.

Rookie Officer Wounded In Action

PRICHARD, Ala. (AP) — Rookie policeman J. E. Jordan probably will be getting some instruction soon from fellow officer Danny Goldman on how to handle a pistol.

Jordan bent over to pick up a book Monday shortly after reporting for duty at the city jail. When he stooped, his pistol fell from his holster. He picked up the gun and it discharged.

Goldman suffered the only injury — a sore head. The bullet shattered an overhead light which fell on Goldman.

Kennedy Grave To Be Marked By A Low, Plain Monument, White Marble Terrace, Flame

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans for a white marble terrace and a low, plain monument for John F. Kennedy's grave were announced Monday.

The central theme for the grave site will be the eternal flame lighted by the president's widow the day of his funeral almost one year ago.

The grave in a small grass plot will be marked by a gray slate tablet which the designers said was the tradition in early New England.

The flame placed at the head of the grave, will be directly along the historic axis extending from the Capitol to the Lincoln Memorial, and then across the Potomac River to the Custis-Lee Mansion at Arlington National Cemetery where Kennedy is buried.

STEPS TO GRAVE

Steps will lead up to the grave site, on a slope just below the mansion.

In the center, slightly elevated is to be the rectangular grass plot where President Kennedy is buried. Its marble "frame" contains a kneeling step for prayer. Within the grass plot will be a slate marker about three feet by 4½ feet in size, bearing the inscription:

John Fitzgerald Kennedy
1917 — 1963

A small cross will be incised above the grave.

The marker for the late president will be flanked by smaller tablets marking the graves of the two Kennedy children who died at or shortly after birth.

ETERNAL FLAME

The eternal flame will burn to the rear of the tablets emerging from a 3-pronged bronze font.

The backdrop for the flame is to be a long low wall bearing the presidential seal.

Plans for the grave site were announced at a news conference six days before the first anniversary of Kennedy's assassination last Nov. 22 in Dallas, Tex. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and architect John Carl Warnecke were in charge of releasing the details.

McNamara said the preliminary cost estimates for the grave site, the immediate surroundings, walkways and other improvements at Arlington would be approximately $2 million.

FAMILY TO PAY

"The Kennedy family has offered to pay all costs associated with development of the late president's grave site," McNamara said. "However, most of the cost is attributable to walkways, platforms, and other facilities necessary to accommodate the visiting public."

"Therefore," he added, "we intend to recommend that the Congress appropriate all funds necessary for the grave site, except for the immediate area surrounding President Kennedy's grave, which will be paid for by the Kennedy family."

This division, he said is in keeping with the rules and traditions of all national cemeteries.

DIVIDE CHARGES

The exact division of charges, will depend on actual construction costs, he said, adding "the family's share will probably be between $200,000 and $400,000." McNamara said construction is expected to begin in the fall of 1965 and will continue for about one year.

During construction, the defense secretary said it still would be possible "most if not all the time" to visit the grave.

The news conference releasing the details was held at the National Gallery of Art.

The models for the gravesite will be put on public display at the gallery for one month, beginning today.

The grave is down a gentle slope from the Custis-Lee mansion where Kennedy, on a bright March day some nine months before his death, stood looking over the city — the Potomac River, the Lincoln Memorial, the white shaft of the Washington Monument and the Capitol dome in the distance — and remarked, "I could stay here forever."

ALONE ON SLOPE

The gravesite is alone on the slope, flanked by the graves of two Kennedy children who died at or shortly after birth — Patrick who died two days after birth Aug. 7, 1963 and a daughter born dead Aug. 23, 1956. They were brought from their original graves to be buried beside their father.

More than 7½ million persons have visited the grave which is guarded night and day by sentinels from the famed "Old Guard" infantry regiment.

Warnecke said previously his work on the gravesite would be done under Mrs. Kennedy's "very close direction" and that it "must be beautiful in its simplicity."

McNamara has announced that the plan has been approved by the District's Fine Arts Commission and the National Capital Planning Commission, as well as Mrs. Kennedy and the Kennedy family. Arlington Cemetery is under the jurisdiction of the Defense Department.

Continue Search For Looted Art

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands of art treasures looted in Europe during World War II are still being sought throughout the world, the New York Times said Monday.

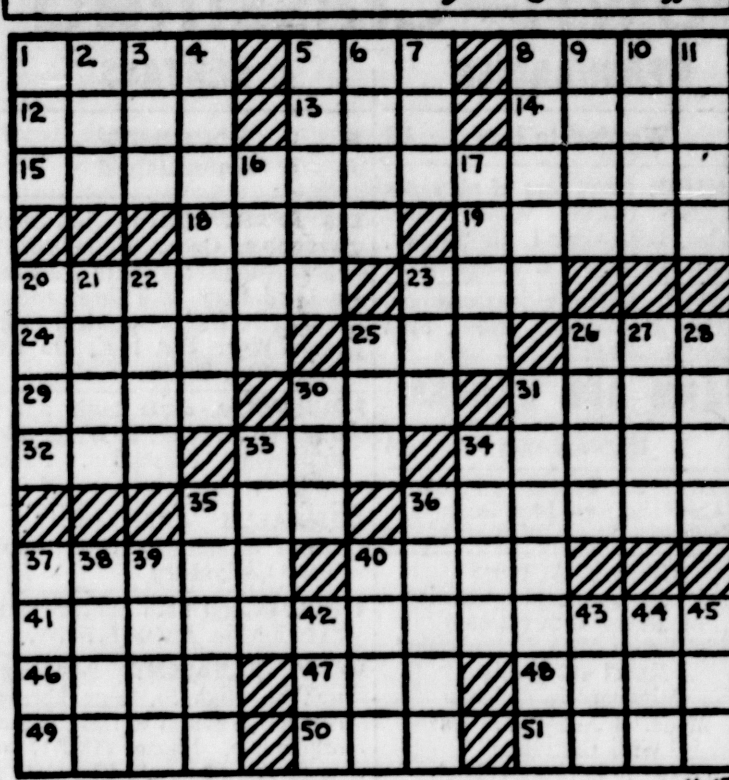

The newspaper said its survey showed that hundreds of art scholars, museum directors, private galleries and police agencies are watching for stolen works.

Miss Ardella R. Hall, arts and monuments adviser of the State Department from 1945 to 1962 when the office was disbanded, is quoted as saying:

"The recovery work will continue for many, many years. The department, as well as the National Gallery, the Library of Congress, and the Department of the Army, calls me at least once a week on matters relating to art objects stolen during the war. I also get letters from claimants overseas."

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — Artist Allen Erskine Philbrick, 84, died Saturday. He taught at the Art Institute of Chicago for many years until his retirement in 1956.

Choose Architect For PSU Center

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — The Philadelphia firm of Harbeson, Hough, Livingston and Larson has been chosen as the architects for the new Milton S. Hershey Medical Center of the Pennsylvania State University.

The firm was selected for the work at a meeting Saturday of the medical committee of the Milton S. Hershey Foundation and the Hershey Medical Committee of the university's board of trustees.

Dr. George T. Harrell, dean of the new medical school, said that detailed architectural planning is to begin immediately.

The medical center is to be built by a $50 million endowment from the charitable trusts set up by the late Milton S. Hershey, famed chocolate magnate and philanthropist.

It is to be built in the vicinity of Hershey, near Harrisburg, in central Pennsylvania.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — The Rev. Varnava Nastich, 50, a native of Gary, Ind., who became vicar bishop of the Serbian Orthodox Church, died Thursday. For the past 17 years he had been under virtual house arrest at a monastery near Belgrade, following troubles with the Communist regime.

TV CHANNELS ACQUIRE MORE FEMININE AIR

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Well, at least this season brought some more girls to keep me company," said Donna Reed.

Indeed the network channels seem to have a more feminine air, even if the new girls are slightly supernatural. Among the entries who appear in the "safe" category for remaining more than a season are the "Bewitched" Elizabeth Montgomery and the ghoulish Yvonne DeCarlo ("The Munsters") and Carolyn Jones ("The Addams Family").

Donna also has Lucille Ball, Shirley Booth, Inger Stevens and Patty Duke for support against the predominantly male programming in television. It appears to be a comfort to the former Denison, Iowa, girl who for at least two seasons was virtually the only female star on the networks.

"OUR 8TH YEAR"

And still she goes on. "Good heavens, next season will mark our eighth year in television," she said in amazement. "That's the equivalent of two full presidential terms. Presidents are barred from serving any more than that. Maybe there should be a constitutional amendment preventing television series from doing the same."

At the end of each season a guessing game has been conducted about whether Donna would agree to do another year. Next time the game is off. ABC, not she and husband-producer Tony Owen, has the option of whether to continue the show. With the ratings comfortably high, a renewal seems certain.

THINGS WORKED OUT

Donna now appears willing to carry on but there have been times when she wanted to chuck the whole thing.

"During the first season, I thought it was all a big mistake," she admitted. "Strictly on an energy basis, it seemed to be too much."

"But the problems worked out in time. The studio understood when I said I would work from 9 until 6 and that was all; the schedules could be adjusted accordingly. And in time we were able to develop adult friends for Carl Betz and me, so we wouldn't have to be dealing with children so much. And now they are growing up. Paul Peterson is practically a young leading man."

Indian Dancers Bring Showers

CHICAGO (AP) — Indian dances were performed hundreds of years ago in attempts to bring rain, make crops grow and insure success in battle.

Hundreds of American Indians did their ritual dances this weekend for another reason — to raise money for their city-dwelling kinsmen who are new to the white man's ways. About 10,000 Indians live in Chicago.

It may have been incidental, but a two-month Illinois drought was eased somewhat a day-long rain Sunday.

The Indians were attending the 10th annual powwow, an annual fund-raising festival sponsored by the nonprofit American Indian Center in Chicago.

A cold is both positive and negative. Sometimes the eyes have it and sometimes the nose.

Likes Court Rule On School Prayer

NEW YORK (AP) — Associate Justice William J. Brennan Jr. of the U.S. Supreme Court says the court's decision on school prayer was "faithful to our society's judgment."

The court enjoined governmental institutions from requiring prayers in the public schools.

Brennan, speaking Sunday night at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, said many persons "have voiced concern that the prayer decisions portend the elimination of religion from every vestige of public life."

But, he said, in the religion clauses of the Constitution "our collective society has pronounced its own judgment that its governmental institutions may not officially involve religion in such a way as to prefer, discriminate or oppress a particular religion or religion in general."

'QUAKES FELT ON WEST COAST

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A series of earthquakes rumbled along a nine-county area along California's central coast Sunday night, centered in the sparsely populated Santa Cruz Mountains about 90 miles south of San Francisco.

A University of California seismologist said the heaviest shock registered between 5 and 5.5 on the Richter scale which placed the destructive 1906 San Francisco earthquake at 8.25.

The shocks in San Francisco were the city's worst since a 1957 tremor with a Richter magnitude of 5.5 injured 31 persons and caused several million dollars damage.

Sunday night's shocks were brief, lasting but about four seconds.

Santa Cruz, 15 miles west of the quake's center, reported broken dishes and overturned lamps.
